9. International Linkages Policy

Objectives and Procedure: International Linkages Policy ensures fruitful linkages with international bodies. IMS promotes linkages with globally recognized universities and educational organizations. The policy criteria should be taken into consideration when reviewing the case for linking and deciding on agreements or MoUs. The following areas of mutual understanding and cooperation will be covered by the agreements/MoUs while adhering to current HEC/government policies: -

- Exchange initiatives between faculty and students that benefit both parties.
- Collaborative research initiatives for learning and mutual interest.
- Collaboratively planning and attending seminars, conferences, and talks of shared benefit.
- The sharing of articles, papers, and other scholarly resources.
- Building capacity through staff and faculty training and any other area in which the parties have a shared interest.
