7. National Linkages Policy

Objectives and Procedure: The National Linkages Policy of IMS ensures fruitful linkages with national bodies. The following are the objectives of the policy.

- The joint research, conferences, seminars, workshops, and other capacity-building initiatives with other HEIs, research-based organizations, and the corporate sector.
- The production of materials for various language departments via foreign embassies, consulates, and missions.
- Creation of job and internship possibilities for graduates and students.
- Research and commercialization activities are carried out with both established and growing companies and industries in Pakistan.
- The establishment of a strategic relationship between academics and students and business and industry.
- Close collaboration with university incubators and researchers to advance business and research.

Policy guidelines must to be taken into consideration while processing cases for local or national linkages. The establishment of connections with reputable higher education institutions, the corporate sector, research-based institutions and organizations, and small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) can all be important and valid. Both parties should gain from the collaboration. It must be made clear that IMS is not held financially or legally liable for any actions taken by the corporation. The objectives, goals, and core values of IMS cannot be compromised by the agreements.
